Fun Owl Fact:
Owls are colorblind; they can see black, gray and white.

Week of October 5, 2019

Principal's Corner

Hello OGA Families,

It is hard to believe that we are already in the month of October. We have a lot of exciting things happening this month such as Family Math Game Night, Family Skate Night, Transformation Room surprises, Fall pictures and other Fall activities. Please note that students will make up the missed school day from Hurricane Dorian on Thursday, October 17, 2019.

I want to thank Ms. Sharpe for coordinating a successful Walk To School Day with our students and families. It was great to see so many of you participating. I also want to thank the OGA Foundation for organizing a successful school fundraiser, as well as all of the families and friends who donated to help make our space amazing.

40% of human jobs could be replaced with A.I. in the future

Book Series Review By: Hallie M.

"Wings of Fire"

I recommend this book series because it is very exciting! If you like dragons you should read it! There are many books in the series and they are told from a different point of view! The series is about 5 dragonets that are on a quest to end the dragon war and choose the next SandWing queen! My favorite book so far is "The Dark Secret" because Starflight finally meets other NightWings and finds out what their dark secret is...
